He has saved us and friends from unnecessary work, repaired and made right poor or totally wrong work by other dentists, and he has worked with someone who had terrible dental and needle trauma in the past so that my heart doesn't race and palms begin to sweat walking into a dental office anymore. His office is near Lenox but they're a Dunwoody family. Best little drive you'll ever make!

The entire office is so pleasant and the doctors are really in tune with your needs. Very good dentist, very personable and his staff is professional and very on top of what they do. He took this practise over some years ago from a retiring dentist I thought the world of (can't remember his name). Many of the staff in the church where work go to him. He has also done several trips along with other medical personnel to 3rd world countries to help those who would never get medical and dental care otherwise. Someone like Dr. Yang demonstrates his care for others and helping the least with this kind of service, over and above his private practise. He has and uses all the latest in technology; extremely capable. Feel very comfortable in his care.
